Contents of every language

Flusiboard supports content in German and English. To avoid confusion, however, only content in the language stored in your profile is displayed by default. You can find out how to display content in several languages at the same time in this lexicon article.

In order for you to be able to view the content of several languages simultaneously in the future, only a small adjustment in your general account settings is actually necessary.

Under Language you will find the possibility to set the language in which Flusiboard should be displayed. Exactly below you will find the item Content Languages. Simply check the box for each language whose content you want to be displayed.

Here is an example

Einstellung	German Contents	English Contents
?? German ? English	Will be displayed	Will be hidden
? German ?? English	Will be hidden	Will be displayed
?? German ?? English	Will be displayed	Will be displayed
